The Weight of the Glass

Once upon a time, a psychology professor walked around on a stage while teaching stress management principles to an auditorium filled with students. As she raised a glass of water, everyone expected they'd be asked the typical "glass half empty or glass half full" question. Instead, with a smile on her face, the professor asked, "How heavy is this glass of water I'm holding?"

Students shouted out answers ranging from eight ounces to a couple of pounds.

She replied, "From my perspective, the absolute weight of this glass doesn't matter. It all depends on how long I hold it. If I hold it for a minute or two, it's fairly light. If I hold it for an hour straight, its weight might make my arm ache a little. If I hold it for a day straight, my arm will likely cramp up and feel completely numb and paralyzed, forcing me to drop the glass to the floor. In each case, the weight of the glass doesn't change, but the longer I hold it, the heavier it feels to me."

As the class shook their heads in agreement, she continued, "Your stresses and worries in life are very much like this glass of water. Think about them for a while and nothing happens. Think about them a bit longer and you begin to ache a little. Think about them all day long, and you will feel completely numb and paralyzed – incapable of doing anything else until you drop them."

The Moral of the Story: On days when you're stressed out and feeling overwhelmed, learn to embrace the inevitable and let go. Some things not be controlled and no amount of worrying could put all your burdens away. Instead of letting stress get to you, embrace it and conquer it.

1. The Ghost Of The Bloody Finger

There was an old abandoned house in a small town that was considered haunted. And so, everyone stayed away from it. One man came forward, saying he is brave enough to spend the night alone in the house. As he prepares to go to bed in the haunted house, he hears a ghostly voice, “I am the ghost of the bloody finger! I am in the front hall.” The man thinks it could be his imagination, and the sound could be of a howling wind. But the voice gets progressively louder as the ghost inches closer to him. “I am in the front hall,” is followed by, “I’m at the bottom of the stairs,” and then, “I’m at the top of the stairs.” Next, he hears the door creak. He covers his head with the blanket in fear. After a few minutes, the voice gently and sociably says, “I am the ghost of the bloody finger! Do you have a band-aid, young man?”

Save the Earth :

Life is possible on Earth thanks to its resources. It would be impossible for us to envision our lives without these resources. Since life cannot exist without sunlight, freshwater, vegetation, and air. However, if we do not save the earth today, this will soon become our reality. Our supply of resources from the planet is finite. It would be an understatement to say that protecting the environment is urgently needed. The earth has suffered greatly from all of humanity's greedy and egotistical actions. It is irreparably damaged. Due to these actions, almost all of the natural resources are now polluted. Naturally, the lives of all living things will be in danger if these resources are all threatened.

Humans only need to take action to safeguard the planet and its resources because all human activities have an impact on the existence of all living things. On both ends, a little effort will go a long way. Every action will have an impact. For instance, thousands of plastic bottles may be avoided from being consumed if one guy decided to quit drinking bottled water. We need to follow the 3 R's, Reduce, Reuse and Recycle.

Humans only need to take action to safeguard the planet and its resources because all human activities have an impact on the existence of all living things
