

COMPREHENSION

Set 2

This story literally talks about a bird who work hard and is punctual in its daily routine.

There was once a bird who woke up early every morning to catch worms.

Other birds would see her and laugh, saying that she was wasting her time. But the bird didn't care. She knew that if she kept working hard, she would eventually be rewarded. Sure enough, one day, the bird caught a worm so big, it could barely fit in her mouth. The other birds were shocked and jealous, but the bird just smiled. She knew that her early mornings had paid off.

Money Rain

Jen stared mindlessly out of her window. Her parents had grounded her and she couldn't begin to describe how bored she was. Jen sighed as she watched the rain fall and heard the thunder in the distance. The NEWS had forecast the worst storm in the city's history, and it was absolutely bucketing down. As Jen's mind continued to wander, she noticed something strange about the rain. It wasn't rain that was falling, it was money! Jen woke from her daze and fixed her glasses. "What on earth," she muttered to herself. "That's money!" she exclaimed. Jen sprinted outside as fast as she could and began collecting the notes that fell from the sky.

Prince Grubby

Prince Grubby was the grubbier man in the world. He was so grubby that his flies had flies. The dirt on his legs were like permanent stains, and the bugs in his hair had lived a lifetime. Everyone in the kingdom laughed behind his back. However, he was the prince of the land and as such, demanded respect from the people. The prince would walk the streets and all the peasants would bow politely, almost mockingly. "Does he even shower?" they would mutter to each other. "I can smell the dirt on his flies," they'd whisper. Young Prince Grubby had no idea of what was being said, nor did he care. He eventually became King Grubby and ruled for years.

1. What does 'permanent' mean?

2. What does 'the bugs in his hair had lived a lifetime' mean?

3. Did the people respect him? How do you know?

4. Why did they whisper when they spoke about him?

5. Do you think Prince Grubby was a good prince? Why or why not?
